Amsterdam - June 2006

Basserk records releases a new CD: the electro-, punk-, pistolpop-Compilation 'SOME TUNES'!

The CD contains 14 wicked tracks of bands from the Netherlands, Germany and France. A super fat compilation of energetic and subliminal tracks with raw beats and pumping basses.

A few months ago, the label Basserk was founded and had a fresh start with the 12"-release from 3-1. The record got great reactions from all over and is as good as sold out thanks to worldwide distribution by Lowlands.be. The compilation 'SOME TUNES' is the next release and again a special one. It's a combination of the new generation dutch electro(punk) bands together with experience and power from France and Germany that makes it more than your regular compilation.

'SOME TUNES' is a fat mix of electro, pistolpop, breaks, gabberpunk and rock & roll. With acts like 'Drillem', 'Aux Raus', '3-1', 'Elle Bandita', 'Nobody beats the drum', 'Melomanics', 'Lucky Goat' and 'Dumbvox' you've got almost all the current great dutch electro(punk) bands. Add the subliminal 'Genjini' from France and a few experienced and powerful acts from Berlin ('Mignon', 'Transformer di Roboter', 'Sneakthief', 'Kook feat. Roxxy Bione' and 'The Scandals') and you've got a CD that's ready to explode.

All acts have got outstanding live reputations because they're full of power, enthusiasm and have a raw approach. Solid as a rock, and not just live, also on CD.

The first track from 'Mignon' is a loud and pumping start that grabs your attention right away. After that, it continues in various unexpected directions and surprises you, but never lets you go. Unpredictable, raw, pumping, with a bit of humour, but most of all full of energy.
